FORT WORTH (Tex.) Sept. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaking to the Grand Army veterans at the reunion at Meeker, Okla., yesterday, Judge Buford, the orator of the day, paid a high compliment to the men who had served their country. He said: "Although an old story, it possesses a living interest, for it is identified with the very life of the republic. All who served in the army of the Union are entitled to great honor. This is the sentiment of a true patriot. Compare it with the rebel yell by Joe Bailey of Texas at a Confederate reunion recently. In speaking of the rebellion, Bailey said: 'I thought we were right then, and I think we were right now, and I teach this to my children.'"

The sentiment at Meeker was unanimously to arrange a programme whereby the old soldiers could hurl the rebel yell in their own teeth, the plan being to hang and burn Bailey in effigy, form a circle around the figure, and sing "Marching Through Georgia." The effigy was constructed and hung on a tree near the platform, but on account of rain during the night, the other portion of the programme had to be omitted.

In 1865 he entered the oil business, his first venture being the laying of the pioneer pipe line from Emblenton, Pa., to the Clarion oil fields. Between 1873 and 1876 he superintended the construction of an intricate system of pipes. He was the organizer of a vast network of lines that now extend from the oil regions in Pennsylvania to tidewater, and consolidated his own companies with the small forces here to embark for Cuba. It is believed that the rebels are already in hand. There are forty marines at the naval station, but they will be badly needed at Havana and it is believed they will sail in the Excelsior Saturday. There are two companies of coast artillery stationed here, sixty miles down the river. There are large forces of American soldiers near the Mexican border, which can be hurried here in a short time and could embark from New Orleans direct for Havana.

The Norwegian steamship Transit arrived here today under charter to the Cuban government, to get a cargo of horses, arms and ammunition to be shipped to Havana.

MARINES READY FOR EMERGENCY.

AUTHORITIES AT WASHINGTON EXPLAIN LANDING.

Sailors Withdrawn After Receipt by Secretary Bacon of Report from Charge of Affairs at Havana—Only Object to Protect American Interests There.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—It was officially announced here late tonight that the marines who were landed at Havana from the American cruiser Denker were ordered to return to their vessel immediately, save for a small guard which will be left at the American Legation. This action followed receipt of an official report from the Secretary of State Bacon by acting Secretary of State Bacon from Mr. Sleeper, the American Charge d'Affaires at Havana, regarding the landing.

The report was not made public, but it was announced officially shortly afterward that the marines were landed from the Denker solely for the protection of the lives of American citizens.

There was no intention, it was stated, to do otherwise than to safeguard American inhabitants, and the services of the marines were to be utilized only in case of disorders within the city which threatened such inhabitants. That the landing in any way contemplated the protection of either the Cuban government or the revolutionary government, President Palma or any other persons than American citizens, was disclaimed officially, and it was pointed out that this fact could not be emphasized more strongly.

The landing of 120 of the bluejackets of the American protected cruiser Denker on Cuban soil and their camping in front of President Palma's palace in Havana tonight caused the most profound interest here.

It was stated on official authority that the instructions to the American officials were such that the armed force would not have been sent ashore from the Denker upon the initiative of the naval commander, but only on a request coming through Mr. Sleeper, the American Charge d'Affaires at Havana, perhaps a better acquainted with the internal situation in the island than any naval officer. It had been the expressed hope of the Washington officials that no such eventuality as that which has necessitated the landing of the marines would arise.

OFFICIALS RETICENT.

Government officials declined to comment upon the action. Acting Secretary of State Bacon left on a late train tonight for New York for a conference tomorrow with the President.

The Denker was ordered to Cuba for the protection of American interests, but it has been intimated that the only purpose was to afford President Palma personal protection.

Mr. Sleeper, the American Charge d'Affaires at Havana, reported the landing of the marines, and explained that there was no purpose of protecting the Cuban government or the revolutionary government, but to protect American lives and property. The announcement that the marines had been ordered back to the ship followed from the White House soon after the receipt of Mr. Sleeper's official report.

That the landing was a complete surprise to the government here was evident. That the landing was under instructions from Washington also was made plain, but the reasons that actuated the government were not set forth in his dispatch. It was distinctly stated today that the quiet preparations of other vessels, looking to possible dispatch to Cuba, do not center in plate intervention; that there will be no landing of parties except in the event of rioting when international law demands restraint against any neutral ship present in port.

But it is realized that by some unexpected act of either the Cuban government or the revolutionary government might be obliged to carry out the provisions of the Platt amendment.

Acting Secretary of State Bacon was at the White House for some time tonight, and left on the midnight train for Oyster Bay.

PLANNING UPRISING.

A general impression here seems to be that it is the intention of the United States not only to protect American interests, but also the government of Palma. The presence in the city of American sailors has had the effect of once for permission. The captain reported to Zayas' representative, who said afterwards he would hold open until tomorrow, when he will call for an answer. This fact was communicated to Palma. Americans here do not think Colwell can obtain permission to land his troops, but Colwell asked Palma if he was able to protect American interests. The answer was no. Colwell then asked him to do so himself. He asked for a location where his men would be near the center of the city. Then he saw the President. Colwell assured that the effect was good. When Colwell suggested removing the men tonight, Palma protested. He wished them to remain.

Colwell would not say a word for publication tonight, except when asked, should the rebels attack the palace would he fire on them, he exclaimed: "No, I am here only to protect Americans; so far I know, Americans have no interest in the palace. If Palma had told me he could protect Americans I should not have landed my men."

Colwell declared he would cable at Smaller Towns of Santa Clara Province in Control of Insurgents. Santa Clara City and Cienfuegos Menaced by Troops—March Toward Havana Continues.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

HAVANA, Sept. 13.—The rebellion looms stronger today than ever. All the smaller towns in Santa Clara province appear to be in the hands of the rebels. The rebellion in Cienfuegos is in a state of alarm. Railroad and river steamboat communication has been stopped. The rebels outside of Cienfuegos continue to receive reinforcements.

Trains are normal in Santa Clara city. Trains over the lines of the United Company's railroad are running without interruption, except for occasional hold ups. Both Santa Clara and Cienfuegos are prepared to resist invasion, but the number of rebels before these cities is vastly superior to the government forces.

Reports that Pino Guerra is marching toward Havana, coupled with the very much increased concentration of rebels outside the city are causing uneasiness here. Deposits in the banks are being hoarded, and money is tight. All the troops which can possibly be spared from Havana province are being brought into the city.

Depredations along the lines of the Western Cuban Central railroads continue. Trains on other lines are not molested, but are fired upon by small bands of rebels.

Felipe Prieto, who has the reputation of being a strike leader, has been arrested here. He is believed to be a rebel leader. The rebels are attempting to break in Havana. Their efforts have been repulsed. The rebels are attempting to break in Havana. Their efforts have been repulsed.

Four hundred additional troops were brought into Havana this morning from Guines for the protection of the city and to assist in attacks upon the rebels in out-lying towns.

There has been no telegraphic communication whatever today along the line of the Western Railroad or over the government lines to Pinar del Rio.

REBELS MOVE EAST.

According to the best information to be obtained the rebel force under Pino Guerra is moving to the eastward along the southern edge of the Pinar del Rio. The rebels are constantly receiving additions from the localities through which they pass, are committing depredations and are burning the railroad. All indications point to the concentration outside of Havana city of the rebel forces in Pinar del Rio and Havana.

It was persistently rumored today that the managers of the insurance companies are seeking to foment a general strike in Havana, and that an attempt to the city will be attempted coincident with the outbreak of internal disorders.

Alfredo Zayas, president of the Liberal party, who has offered to surrender if guaranteed a fair trial, sent Colwell a word today stating that he hoped to visit him tomorrow. All the main insurgent forces in Havana province are reported as concentrated at Bejucal.

REBELS LOOT CITY.

TAKE AMERICAN PROPERTY.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

HAVANA, Sept. 13.—Commander Colwell late tonight was shown an Associated Press dispatch from Washington stating that the sailors from the cruiser Denker had been ordered to return to the ship. The dispatch also stated that the sailors had received no such order, and added he believed that the department had not deciphered his code message explaining the situation.

Colwell said he was satisfied that this evening's events had no proved.

However, if after reaching an understanding of the situation, the Navy Department ordered the return of the sailors, the order would be carried out without delay.

HAVANA, Sept. 13.—After destroying the bridge on the line of the Cuban Central, near Las Juntas yesterday, the rebels captured a train, burned a railroad station and destroyed the telegraph instruments. They then went on to Cienfuegos, where they took the city in the municipal treasury.

GUNBOAT SENDS SAILORS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

TAMPA (Fla.) Sept. 13.—A private cablegram received here tonight from Cienfuegos, Cuba, states that marines from the United States gunboat Marietta landed at that place today to protect American interests.

In Santa Clara province the insurgents' programme of burning the properties of foreigners began today with the destruction of the buildings owned by R. A. Bell and brother, American citizens, and the Constancia, owned by New York capitalists, is reported to be a Spanish estate at Andrieta also was burned.

NAVY IS PREPARING.

TO BE READY FOR CRISIS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The Navy Department is quietly preparing several other vessels for service in Cuban waters, and the army is being carefully studied with the view to quick and effective action in case of an emergency.

It is learned that there have been no troop movements in this connection and although today's army order provides for the return to the United States of the Philippines of the Twenty-first Infantry (sailing from Manila September 20) and the Sixth Infantry (sailing October 1) it is stated that these movements were projected long ago.

The only dispatches received at the State Department today from Mr. Sleeper, charge at Havana, and made public say that fighting has been reported in Pinar del Rio and near Cienfuegos. They tell of the blowing up of bridges, but indicate that the WASHINGTON.

LEPROSY NOT CONTAGIOUS.
American Consul in Venezuelan City Reports.
Dread Disease May
Be Conquered.

International Allegation at a Hearing on Rates.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—After prolonged session by the department of the study of leprosy, the American consul in Maracaibo, Venezuela, has reported that the dread disease is not contagious, but is hereditary to a degree, and is not a disease of the skin, but of the blood.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—In a statement given out by the Department of Commerce and Labor concerning the growth in Porto Rican commerce, it is stated: "The value of merchandise sent from the United States to Porto Rico during the five years prior to 1898 averaged about $2-500,000 per annum, and in 1898 was $11,000,000, or practically nine times as great. The merchandise sent from Porto Rico to the United States in the five years prior to 1898 averaged about $2,500,000 per annum, and in 1898 was $19,000,000, or about eight times as great."

NEW WOOD PRESERVATIVE.
A Process Discovered by Means of Which Sulphur is Forced into Fiber.
A new process for the preservation of wood has been discovered in Spain, which promises to revolutionize the systems which have hitherto employed. An exchange publishes the following:
"The ability of wood to withstand atmospheric pressure is so limited, compared with its mechanical resistance, that a study of new systems aiming at its preservation, is of great interest industrially. All the wood preservative methods now employed are defective, in so far as they make use of solutions the evaporative nature of which makes their action upon the wood effectual only for a limited time. The new method, which has been patented in Germany, utilizes a fixed body, which becomes solid upon being infiltrated into the pores of the wood. This substance is sulphur, the physical qualities of which offer great advantages as a wood preserver. It is fusible at about 115 degrees, a temperature which the wood can support without suffering any perceptible change. The sulphur is applied in liquid form, and, in hardening, completely fills all the interstices of the fibrous tissue.
"Though sulphur oxidizes easily,
if subjected to a high temperature, it remains unchanged in a medium temperature, retaining, not only the influence of water, but also that of acids and alkaline solutions if cold. The reason for the failure to realize the utility of sulphur in this direction heretofore was because of its small mechanical resistance, pure sulphur being very brittle and pulverulent.
But, as wood possesses the mechanical resistance of which sulphur is devoid, the compound of these two bodies may, under the proper conditions, easily acquire valuable industrial properties, like vulcanized cas-tchouc, which wood impregnated with sulphur resembles very closely.
"To protect wood by means of sulphur, the sulphur is fused in a proper receptacle, steam being used to avoid the excess of heat, which would degrade the sulphur. Into the liquid, at a temperature of about 140 degrees, are steeped the boards which are to receive the treatment, care being taken to immerse them completely.
The foam which gathers at first, generated by the separation of the air from the wood, disappears when the wood fully assimilates the temperature of the bath, which is then lowered to 110 degrees. At this point the sulphur becomes hard, and while the air contracts, the sulphur penetrates into the fibrous tissues, propelled by atmospheric pressure. The boards are then slowly withdrawn from the bath, allowing a thin and even coat of sulphur to form and cover the wood. The coat of sulphur has a vitreous appearance and forms a very tenacious crust, excluding all tendencies to chip or break.
"The degree to which the wood is impregnated varies according to the nature of the wood, the temperature and the duration of the bath. It may be gauged by the increase in the weight of the boards, from 30 to 35 per cent. where the process is conducted in an open receptacle, and to 100 per cent. if in a vacuum pan.
Theoretically, it may be said that a complete fulfiling of the pores of the wood would increase its weight by 200 per cent. From numerous experiments which have been made with the new process, it was demonstrated that poplar was the best wood for the sulphur treatment. Oak and pine do not take the treatment so favorably, because their dry distillation begins at 140 degrees. Besides, the resin from them blackens the sulphur, and interferes with the work of the process.
The process described has, up to this time, been applied only to this board, but in view of the satisfactory results obtained, the hope is expressed that it will soon become popular with dealers in lumber."

GRANITE.
Riverside County Will Soon Be Able to Supply All of the Local Demand.
The Riverside Press says: It is
"23" for Vermont granite in so far as California and the West are concerned. Riverside county will hereafter supply the demand. It has the finest rock in the world, and in quantity to furnish any desired amount.
The quarry which promises to revolutionize the industry in the West is owned by Stone Bros. and J. La Borda, and is located fifteen miles southeast of Riverside on the Perris road to El-sinore. The main deposits are about two and one-half miles from Perris and a short distance from the Santa Fe's San Jacinto branch. Altogether

the question of the waiver of thirty days' notice that the committee "might wink" at certain practices of the cotton exporters, while certain railroads might "scoop" their competitors by insinuating "instantaneous midnight sales."
Edward Baxter of Nashville, Tenn., counsel for a number of Southern railroads, assailed the writer of the letter, and charged that it was an insult to the commission and those who were seeking the waiver of the thirty days' provision of the law.

Mrs. Victor A. Beaucaire, a prominent club woman of Chicago, Ill., contracted a severe cold from being exposed in bad weather which resulted in serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Beaucaire, after taking several doses of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, says it has helped her wonderfully, brought the color to her cheeks, and that she would not be without it.

She pays high tribute to the world's greatest tonic stimulant in the following letter:

"As I am a member of the Hull House Women's Club, I was called out many times when the weather was very bad and so caught a very hard cough, and doctors claimed that my lungs were affected; in fact the left lung was almost gone, but since I have taken your valuable DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, I feel better and would not do without it. I have not been taking it very long, but I am sure of good results; I have good color in my face and feel that I can work with a great deal more ambition. I cannot praise it too much. I have recommended it to several of my friends and they, too are thankful for the benefit they have already derived from it." Mrs. Victor A. Beaucaire, 255 Ogden Ave., Chicago, Ill. May 4, '06.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Battling Nelson arrived here today with his manager, Billy Nolan. This evening the Battler went out to Hegewich to see his mother. Nelson was almost without a mark and showed little trace of the terrific beating Gans is said to have given him. Nolan announced that Nelson would fight Gans again, winner take all, and post a $10,000 side bet.

"Those stories about Gans cutting me to pieces are fakes sent out by "The coast reporting writers," said the Dane. "The punch Siler said was a boy was one Tommy Ryan and Joe Chynski showed me. It was landing a short hook with the side of the hand and the wrist. The pictures will show that Siler couldn't see it, as he was jumping to one side. It made the coon squeal, but I had him squealing all through. It's a wonder I didn't kick Gans when he laid down. I intended to, because he kept making insulting remarks about my mother. They say Gans broke his hand, but they say he was drunk."

Yesterday afternoon, and for days previous, a stream of creditors haunted both offices, on the lookout for De Blumenthal. Since he failed to return on Monday, there has been a suspicion among them that he will not come back.

That De Blumenthal is in straitened circumstances is admitted by friends, but it is declared he would pay every cent he owes with the money collected from the Molokanes.

Percy H. Clark & Co. hold a note against De Blumenthal for $500, which due, and on which they have failed to secure payment. The note was recently transferred to L. C. Becker of the Becker Law and Cold Agency, where it is held for collection.

GIRL CONFESSES TO BURGLARY.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD MAIDEN IS CONFRONTED WITH LOOT.

Police Say She Has Robbed Number of Houses in the Neighborhood of Her Home—Sixty Dollars Worth of Stolen Articles Recovered by Search of Her Residence.

Confronted with jewelry and goods she had stolen, Edna Simons, a twelve-year-old girl living at No. 4270 South Park avenue, confessed last night to the burglary of the home of Mrs. Blanche P. Dow at No. 447 East Fort-street, Tuesday.

The tears of her father and the persuasion of a policeman had no effect on the girl until the stolen articles had been brought from their hiding place.

According to the officer, the girl has been stealing from various houses in the neighborhood. In several cases the houses have been reported as burglarized. Edna's confession has solved several of the robbery reports.

Finding that Mrs. Dow had left her home in care of her little daughter, the Simons girl succeeded in interesting the child in playing outside of the house. She then entered and stole the contents of several rooms had been over-looked and considerable valuable property taken.

Patrolman Jack Walsh was sent to the house to investigate the report of the robbery. The officer found that the house had been ransacked apparently by an inexperienced thief. From the woman's clothing stolen the officer deduced that the robber was a girl or woman. Other clues led to identifying the girl with the offense.

Walsh went to the Simons home last evening. He found that the girl's father is a carpenter employed at Santa Monica and that he is a year or more of the time. About a year ago Simons and his child came to Los Angeles from Philadelphia, Pa., after the death of the girl's mother.

When asked where she had hidden the stolen property the girl denied being a thief. The officer showed his search warrant, but it had no apparent effect on her. Walsh then searched the house and recovered about $60 worth of goods. Some of the articles the girl had attempted to burn, she said, to conceal her connection with the robbery.

With the goods in his hands the officer finally forced a confession from the girl. She was sent to the Detention House.

MURDER MYSTERY PROBED.

WOMAN UNDER SUSPICION.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—Accompanied by several detectives, Miss Charlotte Kelly, proprietress of the apartment house in which Mrs. Maurice K. Lewis was mysteriously murdered on Monday, was today taken over the route she claims to have traversed on Monday afternoon while visiting and shopping.

Miss Kelly claims to have been away from home all of the afternoon, and swears that on her return she found her house in disorder and the 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lewis scattered with blood. She called in a policeman, who found the body of Mrs. Lewis in a closet.

The girl had been stabbed through the neck. The police believe a long, thin blade, such as physicians and dentists use, was employed by the murderer. A search is being made for the instrument. The police are inclined to believe that Mrs. Lewis was murdered by a woman, and are looking for a woman as a motive.

The woman under suspicion was at one time employed by a dentist. Harry Somers, a boarder at the house, was detained by the police.

GOES TO KINGS COUNTY.

George Hanna of Hollywood Will Manage Large Land and Loan Company.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13.—George Hanna, for many years manager of the West Los Angeles Water Company, has disposed of his interests in that company and left Wednesday for Corcoran, Kings county, where he will assume the office of manager of the Security Land and Loan Company, a large corporation composed of Hollywood and Los Angeles business men, controlling many thousands of acres of land, irrigated farm lands, and several townships in Kings and Tulare counties, and in which Mr. Hanna has a large interest.

The Union Hollywood Water Company is the successor to the West Los Angeles Water Company, having acquired the properties of the first-named corporation.

Outlaw Attendance.

Concerning the attendance at the outlaw games in Pennsylvania, the following statement of daily average attendance up to August 1, as made by the president of the league, was interesting to all fans and players: Lancaster, 1617 for forty-two games; Johnstown, 1669 for forty-four games; Harrisburg, 1441 for forty games; Harrisburg, 1465 for forty-five games; Williamsport, 1323 for forty games; York, 124 for thirty-seven games. How such small crowds can produce high outlaw salaries means "explaining."

First Sound Individual: I attribute my good health entirely to my mode of living. I get up at 6 a.m. and take a cold bath.

Second Sound Individual: Heavens! A cold bath! It makes me shudder to think of it.

First S. I.: Yes, sir; a bath as cold as water will run, then a light breakfast of milk and toast; then a five-mile walk in light clothing; then a cold bath; then more walking. In the evening a square meal, and to bed at 10 p.m. I neither smoke nor drink.

Second S. I.: Very well. I do exactly the opposite. I sleep as long as I can every morning. Then I dress in a warm coat, eat a large breakfast, and go to business, for I never take walks or any other exercise. I take a good lunch, and on the way home from business I eat a dinner of six courses. I smoke ten cigars a day, and drink all I can get.

can you tell me why we are both sound and strong?

Second S. I. (lightning another cigar): I suppose it is because we do as we like, and do not mind what others say or do.—(Vienna Fremdenblatt.)

GOSSIP ABOUT BALL PLAYERS.

News of the Live Ones from Every League.

Rumor Out That Dillon Is to Be Drafted.

Jim Byrnes, Once of Oakland Now Has a Snap.

Local fans who expect that Frank Dillon will be with the Loo-loos next year should make ready for a disappointment, for the rumor is out that he is to be drafted into one of the big leagues, and that he might be sold. If he goes, it will come near finishing the Loo-loos, because he knows what each man can do and understands how to manage the boys. It is doubtful if there is a team on the Coast that has less bickering in it than the Los Angeles club.

No fan can imagine what might happen in the next two months. A sale of several players of the Los Angeles club is among the probabilities, for one of the directors said last week that none of the players would be sold "if it could be helped." This sounds a trifle queer to a man up in the grand stand.

Pitcher Corridan has been put on the ineligible list for his failure to report to the Toledo club.

One of the saddest features of the race for the pennant in the Pacific Coast League is the fact that it is very hard for Mike Fisher to throw out a line of circus poster talk when his team is down in the cellar shoveling out the dirt. Few men can chirp loud enough to be heard real well when they are in the hole.

Bob Unglaub, who could not make good out in this league, is said to be playing wonderful ball since he jumped into the outfield.

The failure of the San Francisco Seals to play in Seattle several days the past week on account of rain would indicate that the Northwest might not be the best place in the land to play ball, anyway.

No sport says where you have to get in line to see the new players.

If Nagle, Bernard or Dillon have not been sold by the new directors of the Los Angeles team, they can't be disposed of now, for August 15 was the last day on which minor league players could be sold until after the grafting period, or the drafting time, as some call it.

Guess Jimmy Byrnes didn't fall into something easy after being taken in by the Philadelphia team. He caught half of one game, and since then has been barnstorming through some of the minor leagues, picking out promising players for his team. Connie Mack must have fallen in love with Jimmy's sister, for he has one, for Chalmers never did anything good enough in this league to warrant any such swell treatment. No one should be so over his great good luck, but still one can't help but marvel, my, my.

Mike Fisher of the Fresno team worked his head off to get a young pitcher named Rollins, and he finally got him, and must be pretty sore that he did. In the game at Oakland on Wednesday the Computers made thirteen hard swings of Rolly and won in a gallop by a score of 10 to 1.

If Fresno is dropped out of the league next season, it might be very good idea to take in Stockton, as it is one of the best cities on the Coast for baseball. It is a cinch that Fresno won't do.

News comes from St. Paul that Nordyke's broken leg is mending rapidly, but he will not be able to play ball this season and probably not next season.

Broken legs are unhandy things to have in ball games, and it is possible that Nordyke's misfortune may retire him from the game for good.

Pitcher White of Chicago has pitched two one-hit games so far this season, and appears to be the real article.

Tim Hurst is down and out as an umpire, and there have been so many rumors over his rotten decisions that he will quit the game forever after the season ends next month.

Pitcher Barger, the twirler of the Lancaster club and the best pitcher in the outlaw league, has jumped to the New York Americans.

Rockenfield of last year's St. Louis American, and who was once a Coast League performer, has been secured for the remainder of the season by the Louisville club to take the place of Shortstop Castro, who has been sold to Birmingham.

Bobby Keefe, formerly of the Tacoma-Fresno team, is recovering from appendicitis in Montreal, and may be able to pitch before the season ends.

DRAFTING REGULATIONS.

In response to numerous inquiries concerning the drafting period and the prices of each player, the following self-explanatory information is given:

For players selected by major league clubs from National Association clubs, between September 1 and October 13.

From class A clubs, $1000 (limited to one player from each club.)

From class B clubs, $750, unlimited.

From class C clubs, $500, unlimited.

From class D clubs, $250, unlimited.

For your information and to avoid confusion, please notice that the National Association drafting laws differ from the above in the following respects:

Class A clubs have the right of selection between October 15 and November 15.

VIENNA JOCKEY CLUB THE GREATEST GAMBLING DEN IN EUROPE—NOBLEMEN WRECKED BY THE GAME.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, Aug. 16.—Thoughtful persons in Austria-Hungary are much concerned over the gambling which is going on everywhere throughout the monarchy. Scarcely a week passes without some sensational story coming to light of high card playing in the aristocratic Jockey Club in Vienna or the gaming saloons of the institution, the National Casino in Budapest. These gambling scandals, moreover, are not confined to the two capitals—for from small provincial towns and remote interior districts come frequent tales of high play. Nor is the gambling only to be found among the nobles and the gentry. It is a papers the Jockey Club officials were greatly annoyed and the secretary sent out an absolute denial in which it was said that baccarat playing was not permitted in the club. But nobody was willing to accept the club's word a little else than a card-playing institution. When King Edward was here last year he was seen to play baccarat in the club, no matter how late he may have been kept at official functions, and spent an hour or two at bridge.

Among the Austrian nobles and members of the Reichsrath, Count Nicholas Bantffy was also recently prominent in a gambling scandal. It was at Klausenburg, the capital of Transylvania and the game

Naturally, however, the gambling business is not confined to the capital. It often gets into the newspapers, too, concerning the upper classes entirely. For example, the Hungarian aristocrat is, for the most part, a gambler. His hobbies are not far behind. Few of them in either half of the empire take any real interest in their work, and they waste their lives. They prefer to occupy themselves with the opera and theater, and to practice such sports as polo, tennis, and ballet dancers, horses and cards. And so they dissipate their patrimony, mortgage their estates and seem only to prosper when they are head over heels in debt.

The last name to be added to the list of the money-loving nobles is the millionaire who has made ducks and drakes of his inheritance, is that of Baron Hermann Agnewitzky, a man who has been a gambler since childhood. He has lost all his money, and lost at least all his ready money, very prudently stopped. But the Count kept on gambling, and he was ruined. He lost 250,000 kronen ($50,000). The Count had some trouble in raising the money to pay his debts, but he finally succeeded. He lost his aid and the Armenian received 100,000 kronen ($20,000) in cash, an excellent price for a life of a thousand kronen ($200 a month).

From Munich, also, come frequent reports of hench, losses at the gaming table on the part of aristocratic "punter." The latest card scandal from Munich is that Baron Agnewitzky has lost 100,000 kronen on record, and is said to involve some royal prince, two dukes, about 100,000 kronen. The Count has no members of the nobility. The scene of the gambling which led up to this scandal is a fashionable resort at Munich on the famous "Lindner" line.

own of eight million dollars, his income is now less than a tenth of what it once was. His vast estates in Austria and his extensive horse property in Vienna are all said to be heavily encumbered. The only property of considerable value has been sold to Baron Rothschild for some sixty thousand dollars. The rest of his property is mortgaged in which are some exceedingly valuable brood mares and horses.

The Baron has certainly gone to the dogs. He has been in prison several times for Vienna where heavy gambling losses are no great novelty. For the last few years he has been in Vienna, which, in fact the wealthiest Jewish house in Austria, outside of the Rothschilds. He has estates in Austria, in the states at Rendsck and Timpelsgarrn and Chodan in Hungary, at Niederreustetten in Lower Austria and vast estates in Hungary. Besides all these he inherited several big houses in Vienna. He has a yearly income sufficient to present a very early income sufficient to ceeds there to a reckless extent, and as in the Austrian capital, enormous sums are won and lost daily between the hours of midnight and six in the morning.

Their heavy losses at this club have ruined the fortunes of a large number of the Bavarian army, as well as numerous young noblemen and members of the aristocracy. Many of them are willing to face the disgrace of not paying debts incurred at the card tables, resorted to all sorts of frauds to secure their money, and have even continued their membership in the club. Others took their own lives to escape the shame of being known as bankrupts. The most distinguished of the suicides is Count Max Freytag, who was faced with the necessity of paying $100,000.

The royal price implicated in the latest Munich scandal is Francis Joseph of Bavaria, whose name was formerly prominent in the eyes of officers, who thus obtained large sums of money by fraud. Other harassed nobles have been driven to the same sharpening in order to meet imper-

had art treasures of no mean value, and a picture gallery rich in examples of the Dutch and Flemish schools. The Austrian was estimated to be worth nearly $600,000. Many of these have already been disposed of, and Herrmann has only a second estate, but he came into the bulk of his father's estate as his elder brother was with Herrmann. He has been fortunate for having married an actress. In the hope of breaking into the most exclusive circles of Austrian society, he has followed a career of the most extravagant. He entertained lavishly, maintained a costly household, and has been known to have lost large sums of money at cards to his aristocratic companions. In the Austrian Derby, twice, he was beaten by a Jew, and he has always been bitterly hostile. After all he can have had very little satisfaction from it. For the Austrian aristocracy is not much interested in the world and looks down with the utmost scorn upon all interlopers, however successful they may be. It is especially when they chance to be Jews.

The captain has been arrested in connection with the scandal, but the exact nature of the case must not yet be made public.

R. L. BLANCHARD.

Exports of Petroleum.

A consular report gives the following information regarding exports of petroleum from the United States in 1904, during the first five months of the year:

A large decrease in the exports of petroleum products in April was followed by a further decline of 4,500,000 pounds in May, and a further decrease in part by the heavy shipments during preceding months, which are thought to have been in excess of actual requirements.

The falling off has been more marked in shipments to the Far East where the Sumatra product has found favor by reason of its lower cost. Russian exports to the United Kingdom

...but they wouldn't ask him to support their women-folk. His marriage to the girl proved a very costly affair. For when Prince Dracula, the son of Dr. Avie, he abandoned the faith of his fathers and became a Roman Catholic, he renounced the inheritance clause of his father's will, he had forfeit a sum of a million guildens, of which 500,000 was diverted to various charities. The rest he gave to his sisters afterwards he was divorced and he lost him another half million dollars. Even his enormous rent roll couldn't cover such wild expenditures, so he had to borrow and it was the beginning of his financial difficulties. He estimated at more than $2,000,000 the estates are difficult to realize. The family has been a great deal of money dissipating what the previous had accumulated. The family fortunes were founded by Baron Herkules von Habsburg, a Hungarian noble who bought up parts of the site of old fortifications where Vienna's old man built horse and sold them to the Indians. Morita became the first baron, was allowed more of his business and added to his vast patrimony. He was subsequently to Hermann, the Baron left some $5,000,000 among his children and to charities.

Reckless and credit in the pro-Hungarian gambling world, but very different kind, is Nikolaus Reischner, a Bohemian. He has all the gambling instincts of a lion, but unlike most of his friends generally comes out a winner.

Reischner is credited with having won a million and a half kronen (100) in baccarat at the Vienna Casino, and a half million in craps games. His unfortunate opponents were also sons of ancient Hun families, one a Count Esterházy, who lost to him in the Vienna Casino this story got into the Vienna press.

EMPLOYEES IN GRECIAN PLAY.

Broadway Department Store Benefit Association Adds to Its Hospital Fund.

The members of the Broadway Department Store Benefit Association gave their first rendering of "Pygmalion and Galatea" last night at the Gamut Club's auditorium on Hope street. With one or two exceptions, all the characters were enacted by the employees of the store. The production was a success in every way.

Despite the fact that it is a far cry from the atmosphere of the Broadway Department Store to that of early Greece, the manifestations of this were reasonably few and far between, and when they did come rather bold relief, added more to the appreciation of the audience than they detracted from the merit of the production.

The play is far from being an easy one for amateurs to handle, and in carrying their parts as well as they did, the players did commendable work.

The cast followed: Pygmalion, an Athenian sculptor, Leo J. Murphy; Leucippe, a Grecian maiden, Edward W. Lewis; Agathe, Chryso's slave, H. S. Carroll; Mimos, Pygmalion's slave, Oscar Kappler; Chryso's, an art patron, W. W. Heathcote; Galatea, an animated statue, Miss Dorothy Julius; Cynisca, Pygmalion's wife, Miss E. Madeline Frink; Daphne, Chryso's wife, Miss Vera M. Lewis; Myrina, Pygmalion's sister, Miss Marie A. Neary; Statyruis, Miss Ethel Brainerd; Miss Myrtle Heinicke; Miss May Nelson; Miss Ella Rehm; Miss Emma Dieckhoff; Miss Estelle Williams; Miss Carrie Miller.

The play was rehearsed under the direction of W. H. Heathcote, and the players had been hard at work on it for the past month. It was accompanied by a curtain-raiser called "A Happy Fair," presented by Miss Marie A. Neary and Mr. Heathcote. Both performances will be repeated tonight. The Broadway Department Store Benefit Association has been organized for the past year, and is now at work trying to raise funds to secure a ward in one of the city hospitals for the exclusive use of the employees of the firm. "Pygmalion and Galatea" is to be followed next month by "The Merchant of Venice," which will be given at the Mason Opera-house. All of the proceeds from the plays will be turned over to the hospital-ward fund.

AUTOMOBILE INJURES BOY.

Messenger on Bicycle Collides With Motor Car and Is Hurled to Ground.

While riding his bicycle on Broadway, near Tenth street, Abraham Varela, a fourteen-year-old messenger employed by the Pacific company, collided with an automobile, driven by J. Hartsook of No. 681 Westlake avenue, about 7:30 o'clock last night. The boy was hurled from his wheel, and sustained severe lacerations and bruises. Hartsook stopped his machine and took the injured lad to the Receiving Hospital.

From those in the vicinity at the time of the accident it was learned that Varela attempted to dodge a motorcycle and ran into the motor car. Had the machine been traveling at a high rate of speed the doctors believe that the lad would have been instantly killed, as he struck the radiator of the motor head-on.

Varela sustained four deep lacerations of the scalp; his left hand was fearfully mangled; and his body was severely bruised. After being cared for at the hospital, Varela was sent to his home near Wall street on Pico street.

BOOK EXPERTS BUSY.

Records of the Santa Monica City Administration Are Now Being Searched by Auditors.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 13.—At an expense of $15 per day to some private citizen who wants to know positively for his own satisfaction the exact financial standing of the city and the status of each and every fund, two expert accountants in the employ of the Baskerville Audit Company of Los Angeles are experting the books of the auditing department of Santa Monica. Beyond informing City Clerk Henry Ingway that their work was not being done at the behest of the grand jury, they gave no information.

It is not known by whom they are employed or what they expect to find. Their investigation is covering the four-year regime of the present administration and their inquiry is to all intents and purposes a searching one. The City Clerk is placing no stone in their way. To the contrary, he is rendering them every assistance in placing the records, documents, orders, vouchers, stubs of receipt books and warrants, checks, bonds, contracts, etc., in their hands.

The attitude of the city officials is that the public office is a public trust, and the public records are open at all times for the inspection of the tax-paying public. They have all confidence that everything is correct to a penny, barring minor clerical errors, and really welcome the experting, since it may suggest a simplification or systematization that might prove of utility in the future conduct of the several public offices.

Mr. Baskerville, when asked for what purpose he was doing the experting, said he was employed by private parties to make the research covering several funds and is not at liberty to make known the names of the clients.

Twice in the present administration the records have been examined by expert book-keepers, and it is probable Mr. Baskerville will be employed by the city to submit a report of his findings in this case, or to go thoroughly through the books and records and make a statement.

The object of the present investigation can only be surmised, and is thought to have something to do with the city election of next year, when the present Board of Trustees is to retire and a new set of officers is to be elected under the new freeholder charter.

BAY STATE RELIEF DIRECTOR.

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Col. William D. Sohier of the Massachusetts committee for the relief of San Francisco was designated today to go to the Pacific Coast with a view to advising the committee of the disposal of the half-million-dollar relief funds in their hands. He is to be assisted by Jacob K. Firth, a prominent iron manufacturer of San Francisco. It is believed the fund will be held until cold weather causes suffering.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The city street department yesterday sold the properties of 234 persons who failed to pay their assessments for the improvement of State street.

The Park Commission recommended its refusal to accept a park site on Euclid Heights, because the City Treasurer offers additional ground.

Mrs. Isabella Dossel, who accumulated a fortune in the Klondike, after many vicissitudes, was divorced yesterday by Judge James. She affirmed that her husband proved himself to be a combination of selfishness and brutality.

D. C. Stokesberry and Mrs. Carria Clark were arrested in this city yesterday, having eloped together from Chariton, Iowa. The woman left a husband and four stepchildren. Stokesberry is a divorced man. Today they will appear in Department One in an effort to secure release by habeas corpus.

Two taxpayers of San Pedro secured a writ of prohibition, enjoining the board of city council from calling an election to decide the question of closing the saloons on Sunday.

Mrs. Muriel R. Bevis was granted a divorce yesterday on her testimony that her husband, an ice man, cursed her so viciously that she got the chills.

The city prosecutor tried to find some way to prosecute George Lewis, the mobbed barber, for outrageous charges.

Weightman Smith was acquitted from the charge of child-labor charge with which the union had tried to harass him for some months.

AT THE CITY HALL.

STATE STREET DELINQUENTS.

WAKE UP THIS MORNING WITH CLOUD ON HOMES.

Hundreds fail to pay assessment for street improvement and their properties are sold—Heavy Penalty Attached—Park Commission Receives Offers of Park Sites.

An unfortunate condition in connection with the opening of new streets was brought to light at the City Hall yesterday, by the sale of the property of those persons who have failed to pay their assessments for the opening of the north end of State street on Boyle Heights.

The proceedings for the opening of the street have been under way for a long time. The assessment district, covering 1674 pieces of property, was fixed, and notice sent to all owners within the district nearly two months ago. In accordance with the law the property of 234 owners who did not pay up was sold at auction in the office of the Street Department yesterday, and must now be redeemed from the persons who purchased it with a penalty of 30 per cent. attached for every three months, during the first year, 50 per cent. per annum, after the expiration of one year, until at the end of the third year, a deed is given the bidder who paid the assessment.

Never in the history of the city were so many pieces of property sold as the result of one street assessment as in this State street case, and the unfortunate feature of the matter is that many of them do not at this moment know that they owned the assessment. The official records will show that in scores of cases the names have changed hands and that the names have never been changed on the records in the tax office. When the notices were sent by Col. Schreiber, who has charge of the assessment business, they were sent to the names as found on the record, and as a result there are many persons who have never received notice though the law has been fully complied with. Their property has been sold and they don't know it. The only way for them to get wise now is to look up the formation of the assessment district and see if they are in it.

It is a district that covers "all outdoors," inasmuch as the street when open will form a new street, but between Boyle Heights and East Los Angeles. The district begins at Pennsylvania avenue on the south and runs north to Downey avenue, spreading on either side of Griffin avenue, and is so intricate that description in small space is difficult. The amount for which properties were sold yesterday were in most instances trifling, running from 75 cents to $1, only in a few instances reaching above these figures, and generally below the $5 mark. In most cases the lots are vacant.

A novelty about this sort of a sale is that the successful bidder is the man who bids to pay the amount of the assessment for the smallest fraction of the lot against which it is assessed. There are instances in which a bidder thus holds a lien on but the fractional portion of a block—not of the lot, but it is a cloud on the title and actually shuts the owner out of his own property, and the owner, knowing this strip that he does not own.

"PARK WAYS" OFFERED.

ANDREWS BOULEVARD NOW.

The request of the Andrews Boulevard Association that the city take charge of a string of "park ways" in the center of Andrews boulevard, calls up the fact that the city did this with Occidental boulevard, a year or two ago. The Park Commission has had good evidence of the fact ever since, though the general public knows nothing about it. It is a beautiful if only person in a hundred in the city knows that Occidental boulevard is theirs, they are seeking it in the direction of Occidental boulevard, but they don't know it. The Park Commission knows to the extent of $1800 a year that they are maintaining a strip of parks on the hill west of Occidental, which is of vast benefit to the owners of the tract on which they are located, and they will think twice when the board in the footstep of their predecessors and take on another string of the same sort.

It is proposed to begin opposite Sunset Park and cut Andrews boulevard 160 feet wide, from Sixth street north to First street, and then cut "park ways" twenty-four feet wide in the center of the street. The Park Commission is asked to adopt these as public parks and pay for their maintenance. The proposition was taken under advisement with the intention of inspecting the property yesterday afternoon, and giving an answer at a special meeting to be held today.

ACTION RECOMMENDED.

WILL LOOK AT PARK SITE.

The Park Commission at its meeting was induced by W. H. Workman to reconsider its former action, declining to accept a park site on Euclid Heights, which had been offered by J. Harvey McCarthy.

M. Workman added to the offer a piece of land equal to about a city block, which he is anxious to have the city accept. The combined offer makes a tract of about nine acres. When McCarthy made his offer the Park Commission looked over the ground and decided that it would be very expensive to improve and maintain, because there was so little of it that lays anything like flat, but out of deference to "Uncle Billy" they decided to go out and look over the whole proposition and give an answer today, having called a special meeting for that purpose.

CITY HALL BRIEFS.

SOCIALISTS WANT TO GET ON.

The Socialists yesterday afternoon filed with the City Clerk their application for a place on the official ballot, to be voted at the coming city primary election, on the 23d inst., and state that they will hold a city convention on the 27th inst.

The Perrin Cement Company has made application for a lease of certain lots belonging to the city in the Arroyo Seco in East Los Angeles, for a period of three years, and state that they will consider purchasing the property if the city will put a price on it. Residents of Center street yesterday sent a petition to the Board of Public Works, asking that steps be taken to prevent the Los Angeles Gas Company from strewing lampblack over the street, while it is being repaired. They complain that it is disagreeable, as well as injurious to health. The matter was sent over to the street department for investigation.

INDEPENDENTS OBJECT.

The Independent Brickmakers' Company is getting back at the city. The company filed a complaint against the drainage of water from the income tax outfall sewer over its property near Ingleside, and suggested to the Board of Public Works that they "might and some better way of disposing of their waste water than by draining it over other people's lands." The City Engineer will investigate.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

KLONDIKE QUEEN GETS DIVORCE.

MRS. ISABELLA DOSEL FEARS INJURY FROM EX-SPOUSE.

Woman Who Accumulated a Fortune in the Yukon Gold Country Testifies That Dossel Threatened to Kill Her Because She Would Not Deed Part of Her Property to Him.

Mrs. Isabella Dossel, known as the Queen of the Klondike, is free once more, and if she so desires may take a third husband, after the expiration of the legal time. Her first husband was Cap. Haley, sometimes known as the King of the Klondike, after having accumulated a goodly stake in the Yukon country.

But in selecting a second mate, Mrs. Haley chose the opposite of her first husband, and yesterday as Mrs. Dossel she was granted a divorce by Judge James. She testified that Dossel had it of melancholy, during which he cried and lamented that he had missed all his chances in life, and that he would disappear at times and then he would assume a belittled attitude and threaten his wife, and tell her that he would kill her if she came to him with any money. On one occasion she had him arrested, and he was put under bonds.

"He's just about keyed up to the point now where I think he would kill me," said Mrs. Dossel on the witness stand yesterday. "I haven't been home for several nights. I was afraid."

Mrs. Dossel said that she had known Dossel only a month before she married him. He was a carpenter, and told her that he wanted to get on, but that he was a failed man, and was striving against him.

"I thought him just an ambitious, but unfortunate find of man, and as his luck was better than mine, I had enough for both. I did not think much of his melancholy at that time," said Mrs. Dossel, and she looked as if she felt that she had done a rather praiseworthy action in having married Dossel.

She bought a ranch near this city for which she paid $3000, but the husband was not content to enjoy the good things of life without actually owning them. He wanted his wife to place part of the property in his name, and when she refused he cried. Later he took the warpath. Mrs. Dossel's husband had been in partnership in the Yukon country. After returning to this country, Klodke bought a place at Calexico, and after Mrs. Dossel married at Denver and came with her carpenter husband to Los Angeles, he occasionally saw her, and advised her regarding her mutual interests in Alaska. Klodke was at the ranch a short time ago, and interfered when the couple quarreled.

Mrs. Dossel has again refused to make over property to the husband, and he threatened to fix her. Klodke testified that he was in the bedroom as Mrs. Dossel had some fine diamonds, and he was afraid that the husband would carry them away. There was a slight cry, and the sound of scuffling, and Klodke ran to the bedroom door to go to the assistance of Mrs. Dossel, who was wrangling with her husband in the dining-room. Klodke found that Dossel had pressed his wife against the door, so that it would not open, and that he was running through another room, and discovered the fearful husband holding his wife while threatening her. Just as Klodke entered the room, she saw the footstep of her predecessors and take on another string of the same sort.

RUNAWAY WIFE CAUGHT.

ARRESTED WITH PARAMOUR.

Mrs. Carrie Clark and D. C. Stokesberry, both of Chariton, Iowa, were arrested in this city yesterday on a statutory charge. Information having reached Sheriff White recently that Mrs. Clark had left her home, husband and four stepchildren to live with Stokesberry. The latter is a divorced man. He made a previous trip to Los Angeles, and took the opportunity to get a divorce from his wife. Then he returned to Iowa and it is alleged, induced Mrs. Clark to run away from home and family and come with him to this city.

The couple were seen and recognized on the streets here, and the fact that they had eloped together was known about town as Stokesberry.

Stokesberry has a brother who runs a cigar shop on New High street, and is known about town as Stokes.

Both Stokesberry and Mrs. Clark are red-headed, the former having other distinguishing marks. When United States Deputy Marshal Ben Franklin saw a red-headed man lounging at Fifty-fourth street and Central avenue yesterday morning, he tapped him on the shoulder and questioned him. Stokesberry admitted his identity, and consented to take Franklin to where he was living. He was found to be working for a family at Twenty-third and Scarf streets, and thereupon both were placed under arrest.

Later in the day, J. Marion Brooks was retained to get the two released on habeas corpus proceedings, and a petition was filed in the superior court today before Judge Smith. In the meantime, however, a fugitive from justice complaint was returned against Stokesberry, and he was taken last night to take back the two runaways.

Mrs. Clark excuses her action in abandoning her husband, and says that her husband was cruel to her, and that she desired greatly to get away from the unpleasant conditions surrounding her.

ENJOIN CITY COUNCIL.

SAN PEDRO SUNDAY CLOSING.

A writ of prohibition was sued out before Judge Gibbs yesterday night, and was returned by the court today, enjoining the City Council from proceeding with the call for an election to pass upon Sunday closing of saloons.

The question, whether saloons shall be permitted to remain open on Sunday or not at San Pedro has become an important one. Dying the chief of the saloons, who are in the city, contemplates holding an election to allow the citizens to decide the matter. In the petition for the writ of prohibition, it is alleged that the petitioners as taxpayers are entitled to a hearing, and that the Council has no right to hold an election when the power to do so is vested in the people.

The writ was served upon the Councilmen on Wednesday night, and was made returnable before Judge Smith on September 21.

CURSES CAUSE CHILLS.

SO WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Muriel R. Bevis enjoys the unique distinction of having been cursed by her husband until she got the chills, and when he kept on the profanity was so baneful in its effect that she fled to the floor in a faint. Yesterday she got a divorce from Frederick M. Bevis in Judge Bordwell's court. Bevis is an ice man.

The couple were married in San Francisco in 1901, and according to Mrs. Bevis's testimony, the whole trouble resulted from the drinking habits of the husband. After working hours he would stop downtown drinking, and after returning home at midnight or later, he would compel his wife to get up and cook him something to eat. Curses, she affirmed, were her only reward.

Mrs. Bevis mentioned one occasion when she was cursed into a fainting spell, and she said that she lay on the floor until neighbors came in and revived her. Her husband had gone away, she said, without paying any attention to her.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

GOLLMER RESTATE.

Mrs. Alice Gollmer petitioned for probate of the will of her late husband, Charles Gollmer, who died on August 8 at Dettingen, Germany. The deceased left a family of three children besides his widow, and the will which was made in February, 1904, leaves everything unconditionally to Mrs. Gollmer. The estate for which probate is asked amounts to about $60,000. The family reside at No. 1329 South Flower street.

WANTS LIFE INSURANCE.

R. Wilcox has begun suit against the Life Insurance Company, to recover on two policies of insurance taken out by Henry D. Eaton in June, 1917, and assigned to the plaintiff in December, 1919, of which $100,000 and $25,000, and the policies for principal and interest, alleged to amount to $100,000, have been rejected by the company.

NEW FACTORY.

The Pacific Harp and Collar Manufacturing Company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $20,000, of which $10,000 has been subscribed. A site for a factory building is now being sought. The directors are R. W. Brydon, Harry Gillette, R. W. Garlan, H. H. Russell and H. E. Wieneke, all of this city.

NEW BEACH BANK.

The Redondo Beach Bank has been incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, fully subscribed. The directors are Herman W. Hellman, L. C. Brand, Percy R. Wilson, W. H. Garlan, H. H. Russell and H. E. Wieneke, all of this city.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

Deckhand Whose Leg Was Broken Sues for Damages—Trouble Over Folding Beds.

Howard Cutler, a deckhand formerly employed on a gasoline launch in San Pedro harbor, yesterday filed a bill of complaint in the United States District Court against the North American Dredging Company, asking damages for a broken leg, received while at work in the harbor.

done his business by the defendant company, and avers that the defendant concern has claimed to hold the exclusive rights to the manufacture of a certain wall folding bed and has actively endeavored to damage his business in this line.

WANTS THEM ENJOINED.

W. C. Mushet, as trustee for the estate of J. Y. Cammer, bankrupt, yesterday filed a bill of complaint in the United States District Court against M. E. Meneses and W. G. Hurlbut. He asks an injunction restraining the defendants from disposing of the property owned by Cammer in Santa Monica, and which the plaintiff avers was turned over to the defendants by Cammer when he knew he was insolvent. Cammer owned leasehold interests on a lot in Santa Monica, which he had secured from the Los Angeles Pacific Railroad Company. Mushet alleges Cammer made the two defendants preferred creditors, and that if they are permitted to dispose of the property it will endanger the other creditors from getting their lawful proportion of his assets.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

MAY PROSECUTE GEORGE LEWIS.

OFFICIALS ANXIOUS TO GET AT MOBBER BARBER.

Negro Tries to Collect Debt by Burglary and Goes to Jail—Mrs. Dunnigan Saves Pet Terrier. Weightman Smith Acquitted by Jury from Child-Labor Charge.

To prosecute a barber for extortion isn't easy. City Prosecutor George Beebe and Guy Eddie, his assistant, realize this. They spent some time yesterday afternoon looking up law before Judge Gibbs, and the result was a decision to a hair cut and a shave. He told Powers that he had dyed the latter's locks, ironed out his eyebrows and sold a lot of other things to him. Dying the hair amounted to $5 alone.

Now Powers wants the law to do something. And Patrolman Glenn, who is alleged to be a victim of the barber, is equally anxious. Glenn says this thing is getting common, so that the saloons, who are in the city, are being robbed during Chief Aulie's illness.

All these things are true, says the office of the City Prosecutor. But what the office individually and collectively balk at is prosecution. The law is such that the offense is hard to get at. Powers gave Lewis a bill after the latter had named his price. Whether Lewis, according to the law, embezzled, committed larceny, extortion or robbery, isn't yet settled.

Pending settlement, Lewis is out of jail. If, however, it is legally determined in the minds of the City Prosecutor's force what particular brand of law Lewis violated, a complaint will be issued.

And both Powers and Glenn say that they are going to stick to it until something is done.

She Saves Her Terrier.

Mrs. Harry J. Dunnigan's pet terrier was rescued from the dog pound yesterday afternoon after a thrilling experience, and now Lindsay Britt and F. R. McClellan, the city dog catchers, are under arrest on battery charges. Mrs. Dunnigan says the dog of them dragged her into the street after she had become entangled in their net, trying to save her dog.

The Dunnigans live at No. 511 East Avenue 25. Mr. Dunnigan is a lawyer, and he intends to help prosecute the case against the dog catchers. Wednesday evening Britt and McClellan saw the Dunnigan terrier, and he was taken away from them. He was issued for Britt and McClellan.

When the dog catchers invaded the lawn Mrs. Dunnigan ordered them away. They tried, she says, to take the dog away from her. In the struggle the animal started to run. Mrs. Dunnigan saw the net fly out for him and in intervening became entangled with it. She was dragged into the net and the dog was taken away from her.

Yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. Dunnigan visited the dog pound. They got their pet. Then Dunnigan went to the Central Police Station. He swore to a complaint and a battery charge was issued for Britt and McClellan.

Charge Falls Flat.

Weightman Smith, superintendent of the California Fruit Canners' Association, was yesterday morning acquitted of the charge of employing child labor for illegal hours. The labor-union effort against Smith fell flat after the jurors took fifteen minutes by themselves. The testimony of the prosecution was long and exhaustive. But it didn't amount to much in the end after all.

At 10 o'clock the jury looked at the defendant. Harry Ghan, the boy declared to have been illegally working, was still an onlooker in the courtroom where the labor unions tried to prove he was abused by too long hours.

Novel Debt Collection.

Debt collection by burglary seems to be barred in California. James Wade, a mulatto, wanted to go claim a felony charge on the ground that when he broke into the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Leonard, he was after $25 which she owed him.

But he was held over to the District Court under $1500 bonds, which he couldn't furnish.

Wade was arrested by Detectives Ziegler and Hostick. He had taken Mrs. Leonard's watch after cutting entrance through a screen door.

"She owed me $25 Judge," said Wade, "An' she wasn't there, so I jess went after it."

Janitor in Jail.

Charles Colbert, a negro janitor of the Examiner, has been stealing stamps from the paper and selling them to the Sun Drug Company, according to officers. Patrolman Carroll arrested Colbert yesterday, watching the negro for some time. Carroll had become suspicious when he saw Colbert selling stamps to the drug people. He traced the man to his place of employment. He marked stamps there, and yesterday found Colbert selling them. Then came the arrest on a petit larceny warrant.

"ARROWHEAD" AND NEVADA.

Nevada's treasure vaults and their opening are subjects of constantly recurring interest, and just now they take added attention because of the railroad activity in the Sage Brush State and the markets that are thereby made possible for Los Angeles merchants. The Salt Lake has almost finished its building work in the Beatty district, and the Boreas enterprise of the Santa Fe and the extension from Goldfield are not far behind. An excellent description of Nevada's mining camps and the present status of the State form the contents of the August Arrowhead, a monthly magazine published under the auspices of the Salt Lake, in the interests of western travel and development. The opening article is by Col. H. B. Maxson, on the transition of Nevada. This is related to the life of the old story—the days of the Comstock Lode, the Pioche and the Eureka strikes. Then the long period of desertion, when silver mining was in a slumber, and the efforts of prospectors after prospectors to find the mineral stores, which were certain to exist in other parts of the State. How these prospectors were rewarded in the end, and the discovery of the State form the discovery of that mineral storehouse, is told at length by a special writer, who visited all the camps and mines of the State. Every camp has had its share of attention, and a valuable amount of information is set forth as the result.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.
In a few weeks the choral forces of Los Angeles will begin the year's work. The choral troupe of the Los Angeles Choral Society, which was organized last spring, is now in the midst of its preparations for the season. The society is composed of men and women, and is under the direction of Mr. J. W. Smith. The society has been very successful in its work, and has given many fine performances. The season's work will begin in a few weeks, and will include a number of new compositions. The society is very popular, and its performances are always well attended. The society is a fine example of the power of music to bring people together, and to create a sense of community. The society is a very important part of the Los Angeles musical scene, and its work is highly respected. NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA GETS HER Y-BOOK.

YEEED NOT DIG SO MUCH ON THE SEWER CONNECTIONS.

Fight for Precious Volume Ends in Valued Record Passing Into Possession of Street Superintendent.
Lamanda Park Student Operator Held for Trial on Forgery Charge.

Office of The Times, No. 26 S. Raymond Ave.
PASADENA, Sept. 12.—The fight over the possession of the famous Y-book of the Pasadena sewer system has finally been settled and the book has passed into the possession of the Street Superintendent. The taxpayers have been put to enormous inconvenience by not having the book and the city is out considerable money as the result of the controversy.
At the time the sewer system was installed Street Superintendent Beyer engaged his predecessor, ex-Superintendent C. C. Brown, to keep track of the work and to keep a directory of all the "Y's." This book, which cost $250 per day. When the book was completed and the book had been compiled, Brown put in his claim and Beyer promptly approved it. When the bill was presented to City Auditor Kellogg approval was refused on the plea that the work should have been done by the Street Superintendent and that there was no authority by which an outsider could be engaged to do the work.
Brown objected to the ruling of the Auditor and the matter was brought before City Attorney Pitts Gerald. Pitts upheld the contention of the Auditor and Brown found that he was out the result of his work. He refused to give up the book, however, and whenever a property holder wished to connect his house with the sewer, he had to dig up a considerable section of the street before he could locate the "Y." In order to make a connection, The Street Superintendent invented a contrivance which he thought would enable him to locate the "Y's" but it was not successful and making a connection with the sewer has meant the tearing up of a considerable part of the ground.
The trouble has been going on for more than a year and the book has been made to induce Brown to give up the book. All of the advances have been unsuccessful, however, Brown holding the money which he has claimed was due him.
Tonight it was announced that the much-wanted book had been located and the position on the street department and that from now on it will be a simple matter to locate any connection without the tearing up of the street.
As far as the "Y's" end of the controversy is concerned, it is in a fair way of settlement. Sailors on the steamers South Bay and Central are discharging lumber at this port to the employees of the various wholesale yards at San Pedro, and asking no questions as to whether or not the handling the lumber are union or non-union men. Apparently the local longshoremen and yard men are to be allowed to simply be left "up in the air" and several hundred of them are out of employment, while the business of the port goes on uninterrupted.
The brain of Andrew Furuseth, having the interests of the sailor's union most in mind, so far outlines that the "Boss" Craig, the local savior of the longshoremen and yard men, the latter simply appears ridiculous. Furuseth's men are to be allowed to simply be left "up in the air" and several hundred of them are out of employment, while the business of the port goes on uninterrupted.

Longshoremen and Yard Men Who Followed the Blind and Dictatorial Lead of the Boss and Went Out on Strike in Sympathy With the Sailors Realize Their Foolishness.

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 12.—As the days go by, the local longshoremen and yard men who followed the blind and dictatorial lead of "Boss" Craig and went out on strike in sympathy with the sailors, realize the fallacy of their action.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WATERWORKS.

Bids Advertised for Sewer Line.

New K. of P. Rooms.

POMONA, Sept. 12.—The Board of Trade committee which appeared before the City Trustees to again urge the matter of another bond issue of $60,000 for parks and schools has been given positive assurance that this issue will be immediately considered after the report of the special water committee appointed to look up the matter of the condition and worth of the Consolidated Water Company's plant should municipal ownership of a water plant be considered here. This committee is awaiting the reports of Engineers F. W. Olmstead of Los Angeles and W. S. Jones of this city who will be ready with their findings in two weeks. The City Trustees have also received a communication from H. M. Corlette of Los Angeles, who has been spending considerable time here in the interest of a new water company, regarding this company's consideration to bring an unlimited supply of water into Pomona.

POMONA PICKINGS.

A large party of local Elks and their ladies are preparing to attend the Forepaugh circus in a body, securing a large block of seats.

Bids for work on the sewer line at Pasadena, Chicago, Pearl and Eleanor streets are being advertised.

Charles E. Walker has gone to Bluff Lake and will return in a week with his family.

The new quarters for the local lodge K. of P. over the American National Bank, are completed. They are both commodious and attractive.

The local Home Telephone Company is considering the installation of a new harmonic selective system here.

WALKERS KICK AT THE CREEPS.

EIGHT-MILE GAIT TOO SLOW FOR LONG BEACH.

Care of the Pacific Electric Railway Run on Schedule to Comply With the Ordinance Limiting Speed and the Result Causes Much Disgust. Narrow Miss from Drowning.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 12.—Long Beach citizens tonight are up in arms and fairly frothing at the mouth for the remarkable reason that the Pacific Electric has promptly obeyed an ordinance regulating the speed of its cars within the city limits, not because it was compelled to, but solely to show its patrons the result.

For a long while the electric cars have been run in disregard of requests made for slower speed, muffled lights, and alarm signals. The ordinance, which was passed by the city council, was a direct result of the fact that the cars were running so fast that they were a danger to the public.

The federal of the City Trustees also adopted an ordinance regulating the speed of the cars, and providing, among other things, a speed limit of eight miles an hour. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

As usual with most ordinances of this character, no attention was paid to it, and the cars continued to run at their former speed. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

SHALL IT CHANGE NAME?

Huntington Park's Board of Trade in a Quandary Over the Important Question.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 12.—Is the name "Board of Trade" too suggestive of bucket shops and would the title "Commercial Club" be a better one for the citizens' organization, is one of the questions agitating the community. To the Board of Trade is credited largely the carrying out of incorporation, and some members are averse to a change of name. Tuesday night's session of the board was devoted to the matter for a week, also the question of the erection of a city hall. The City Trustees having signed an expression of opinion from the Board of Trade on the subject. Attorney Foley of Los Angeles, the new city's legal adviser, attended, and gave an interesting address outlining the limitations of the city as to indebtedness and the means of providing for the money to carry out improvements. Mr. Foley was heartily thanked for his address.

PLAN TO BUILD FREE OF TOTEM.

FACTORY FOR MOTOR BOATS FOR NAPLES.

"Open Shop" to Prevail in All Departments and Competent, Free Workmen Only Are to Be Employed Regardless of Affiliation With Labor Unions.

NAPLES, Sept. 12.—Tangible recognition of the possibilities for the development of motor boating on Alamitos Bay, and neighboring waters has been shown in the organization of the South Coast Boat and Engine Company, capitalized at $100,000. One hundred and twenty feet of valuable frontage has been secured on the south side of the bay, just west of West Naples. Here the company will begin the erection at once of a three-story boat building establishment, where small pleasure craft of all descriptions are to be turned out by skilled artisans. The construction of speedy motor boats, yachts and racing shells is to be a special feature.

A complete machine shop is to be built in connection with the new establishment and will be given practical tests. It is contemplated to build from 15 to 200 horse power of this type. A long term lease of 100 feet adjoining has also been secured. Here a modern boat garage, the first of its kind in the city, will be constructed. This structure, the plans for which show an artistic building of frame, with cement exterior, is to cost approximately $15,000, and is to accommodate 100 boats.

An announcement that will be of interest to local yachtmen in the near future is the erection of a new building, the plans for which show an artistic building of frame, with cement exterior, is to cost approximately $15,000, and is to accommodate 100 boats.

The company has secured boating concessions at Newport Bay, where a repair and machine shop, and garage for the boats, will be erected. The company has secured boating concessions at Newport Bay, where a repair and machine shop, and garage for the boats
